BURLINGTON DYNAMITE.

OFFICERS SEARCHING FOR THE PARTIES WHO SOLD IT.

Two Men Injured in a Riot in the Yards at Chicago—Several Cars Derailed by Supposed Strikers—Arrested for Tampering With an Engine—Labor News.

CHICAGO, July 13.—A local paper says: Attorney Dawes, Inspector Bondfield and a deputy United States marshal took the confiscated dynamite from Marshal Marsh's office Wednesday and visited the establishments of several powder companies. The object was to find out if possible where the dynamite was purchased.

The captured dynamite is of what is known as 80 per cent. grade. Only two of the several Chicago agencies handle packages of this grade and description, which is but little stronger than ordinary blasting powder. Under the state law the name and address of each purchaser is taken by the agent and his books therefore show where every ounce of dynamite has gone.

If there were but half a dozen agencies in the country it would therefore be an easy matter to trace the captured dynamite. As a matter of fact, however, it is quite easy to procure dynamite. Nearly every country town has one or more dealers who carry a low grade of dynamite, such as the one in question, the stuff being a favorite with farmers for the purpose of clearing stumps and bowlders from their fields.

These facts probably explain why there was no damage done beyond the breaking of a wheel flange in the explosions on the Burlington system, and also go to show that it will be a difficult job to show where the captured dynamite was purchased and who purchased it. No information was obtained, and Bondfield subsequently admitted that any statement to the effect that it was absolutely known where the dynamite was purchased was too strong.

Small Riot in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 13.—A small riot occurred Wednesday night in the Kinzie-street railroad yards in which two men were injured. A heavily-loaded Burlington freight train was being backed down to the St. Paul yards on Kinzie street, between Western avenue and Seymour street. Some two hundred men had congregated there, who are said to have been mostly striking Burlington engineers and engineers from the St. Paul and Northwestern roads.

As the Burlington engine headlight appeared the cry of "scabs" was raised by some hot heads. It found willing responses, and the engine was speedily surrounded, and a fusillade of coupling links and pins, hastily picked up from the tracks, discharged at the men in the cab. At the same time a switch was thrown open, and as the engine ran off the rails into the ditch the cab was nearly demolished by the shower of missiles hurled at it by the angry men.

The engine was left upright in the ditch, the cars behind it being derailed and the track blocked for a long distance. When the rioters saw the damage they had done they fled. A special officer summoned the police.

The engineer and firemen were found in the cab injured, and were taken to the county hospital for treatment. Their injuries were pronounced serious. No arrests have yet been made, and the officers have no clue as to the perpetrators.

An Engine "Doctored."

QUINCY, Ill., July 13.—On the 4th inst., a Chicago, Burlington & Quincy locomotive standing in the yards here was tampered with, the result being that when the machinery was started the gauge broke and the piston-rod was bent. An effort had been made to wreck the engine. Tuesday night Detectives Kroner and Purcell arrested Edward Kinney for the crime. A hearing in the case will be held on Tuesday next. Kinney is in jail on $500 bonds.

Iron Scale Signed.

PITTSBURG, July 13.—The Amalgamated scale was signed Wednesday afternoon by Jones & Laughlin, of the American Iron works, of this city, and by the Gate City Iron company, of Gate City, Ala.

The signing of the scale by Jones & Laughlin was received with general rejoicing by the iron workers, as they regard it as virtually ending the lockout.

The firm employees nearly five hundred men, and next to Carnegie, Phlips & Company is the largest manufacturing firm in the city.

The workers now look for a general break, as President Keating, of the Iron Manufacturers' Conference committee, stated a few days ago that if Jones & Laughlin signed the other manufacturers would soon follow.

A telegram received at the Amalgamated association headquarters, announces that the Brazil, Ind., Iron and Steel company, employing 300 men, signed the Amalgamated scale today, and will resume work at once. This is the twenty-second mill that has agreed to the Amalgamated terms, which guarantee, almost twenty-four thousand men from a wage reduction. Other important breaks in the manufacturers' ranks are expected.

Under the Alien Labor Law.

PORT HURON, Mich., July 13.—Sixty Canadian laborers who have been employed by the Grand Trunk at Port Huron, Fort Gratiot, and other points on the St. Clair river, crossing to and from their homes morning and night, have been compelled by Customs Collector Ward to shoulder their dinner buckets and cross to Canada to return no more. This is done under the provisions of the alien labor law, providing that no foreign laborers can be brought to this country under contract for services to any company or individual.

Pig Iron Production.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Iron Age today publishes an estimate of the pig iron production for the first six months of 1888. The total is 2,984,170 tons, against 3,350,923 tons during the second half of 1887. Anthracite pig iron has fallen off from 1,015,125 gross tons the second half of 1887 to 843,875 the first half of 1888. Coke iron has fallen off from $2,063,760 to 1,901,351 tons, and charcoal iron from 261,032 tons to 230,615 tons.

THROUGH A TRESTLE.

Accident on the Virginia Midland—Five Killed and Many Injured.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., July 13.—The south-bound express on the Virginia Midland railway ran through a trestle near Orange C. H., early this morning, precipitating the train into the ravine below, a distance of more than twenty feet. The train was running at full speed and the shock was terrific. Three people are known to have been killed and upwards of forty are reported wounded, several, it is feared, fatally. Reports received here from the scene of the wreck thus far are very meagre.

LATER—It is now ascertained that the following named persons lost their lives by the accident on the Midland:

Colton Cox, an employee of the road.
J. N. Cormontz, of South Carolina.
Mr. Hunter, of Scotland.
Mail Agent Whittington, of North Carolina.

A Washington newsboy, name unknown. The engineer, fireman and conductor were fearfully scalped.

Every assistance was rendered the wounded passengers by the country people. Physicians from Orange C. H. and Gordonsville went to the scene of the disaster.

THE CHAMPION FEMALE BIGAMIST

Discovered in the Person of a Lady Book Agent at Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 13.—The champion female bigamist has turned up here. She is a book agent, and says her home is in St. Louis. She is twenty-seven and good-looking. It is said that she has married no less than twelve men in as many different states. She is a sharper, too. When she arrived in a town she would find plenty of fools with more money than brains who would make love to her. The woman would insist on marrying, and then get her husband to loan her a couple of hundred dollars to send home to her sick mother. After she got the money she would take the next train out of town.

About a month ago she married W. H. Evans, of Hazleton. She got $350 out of Evans, and then fled to this city. Evans arrived here yesterday looking for the woman. To-day another husband, Albert Thomas, from the west, turned up. He was looking for the woman, too. She married him and got $250. The woman's right name is said to be Lorina Hart. She is an expert forger, and is wanted on two charges.

Conferring the Black and White Veil.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 13.—Bishop O'Hara, assisted by twenty-two priests, conferred the white and black veils upon a number of young ladies at Molinkrodt (German) convent today. The ceremonies were very imposing. The white veil was taken by the following: Margaretta Hansen, Lemars, Iowa; Elizabeth Koch, Trenton, N. J.; Magdalena Gitten, Newman, Ill.; Maria Scholle, Reading, Pa.; Anna Keller, Williamsburg, N. Y. The religious vows were made by the following: Sister Beatrice Ruf, Scranton, Pa.; Sister Concordia Fisher, Lemars, Iowa; Sister Hyacinthe Martin, Westphalia, Mich.; Sister Felicissima Heine, Reading, Pa.; Sister Meekiera Rheinprovinz, Germany; Sister Rosamond Rouchmeyer, Scranton, Pa.; Sister Evangelista Storz, Wilkesbarre, Pa.; Sister Wiedfeldt Lepert, St. Louis; Sister Benita Schuessler, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Sister Christopha Polcup, New Ulm, Minn.; Sister Eulogia Klanser, Rome, N. Y.; Sister Nolaskamutz, Lansing, Mich.

Lynchers Fly Their Deadly Trade.

WYTHVILLE, Va., July 13.—At 12 o'clock Wednesday night a body of masked men took William Smith, colored, who was charged with committing a criminal assault on a respectable white lady, a Mrs. Midkiff, in Pulaski county, from the custody of Sheriff Markrader, at the depot in this place, and hung him in a grove about four hundred yards distant. After hanging Smith the lynchers riddled his body with bullets.

Blames It All To Drink.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Goldenson, the young murderer of his sweetheart, whose last chance of escaping the gallows was destroyed this week by Justice Field, yesterday furnished a long statement to the press. He ascribes his crime to drink, and regrets absolutely all the charges of unchastity which he made just after the crime against the girl he murdered. His only friend is his old mother, who visits him daily.

The Canadian Pacific Extending.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Canadian Pacific Railroad company has secured control of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic road. The terms of the purchase have not been made public. The officials of the Northwestern lines fear that the transfer of this road to the Canadian Pacific will prove another obstacle to the operations in that section to the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce law.

Ysleut Dudley's Friends.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Some friends of Ysleut Dudley, the English woman who shot O'Donovan Rossa, are said to be making an effort to secure her release from the asylum for insane criminals at Auburn. There is some question as to the legality of her detention.

HUNDREDS HOMELESS.

DISASTROUS FIRE IN THE VILLAGE OF ALPENA, MICHIGAN.

Over Two Hundred Buildings Burned. Three Million Feet of Lumber Destroyed—Total Loss at Least $200,000. Great Charity Displayed—Other Fires.

DETROIT, Mich., July 13.—A special to the News from Alpena, Mich., says: Sixteen years ago to-day Alpena was laid in ashes, and to-day fourteen blocks of the Third ward are in ashes, besides Gilchrist's dock.

Two hundred buildings have been burned, and 225 families, representing 1,300 persons, are out of house and home. Nine-tenths of these are workmen, and most of them have no insurance.

Mrs. Ann McLean, visiting here from Buffalo, N. Y., was burned to death. Mrs. Putkin, aged seventy-three, is so badly burned that she is not expected to live. If any others were burned it is not known as yet.

At least $200,000 worth of property was destroyed by the burning of buildings. Three million feet of lumber belonging to F. W. Gilchrist, Folckerts, McPhee & Company, of Alpena, and Burrows & Burt, of Saginaw, equal losses, were also burned. The lumber and docks are valued at $90,000.

So far there is no destitution. Although the people burned out were mostly poor laborers, there was no actual suffering. George L. Maltz gave $1,000 and the use of the opera house for sleeping purposes. The skating rink was also given and all the balls are filled. A. N. Spratt has sent the people to meat markets and bakers, all the bills to be sent to him. Many families saved nothing.

Eighty Mules Burned.

WICHITA, Kan., July 13.—The street car stables here were burned Wednesday, together with eighty mules, one hundred sets of harness and a large quantity of feed. Four men were sleeping in the barn and all were badly burned. Of these Tobias Gerke and William Wiel will die. The fire is believed to have been the work of an incendiary.

An old man named Murphy on Tuesday drew $900 from the bank and cannot now be found. It is believed he was murdered for his money in the stables and the structure set on fire to cover up the crime. An investigation is in progress.

A Stabbed Fire.

HANOVER, N. H., July 13.—A fire which threatened the entire destruction of West Main street and that whole section of the village was discovered this morning, and ranged fiercely for two hours. The fire department seemed unable to cope with the flames and assistance was summoned from Lebanon. At 3:30 a. m. the fire was under control. The following buildings were burned: Dartmouth hotel and barns, F. H. Whitcomb's dwelling and barn, a two-story frame dwelling and an "L" owned by Dartmouth college and a dwelling and barn owned by Charles Clifford.

Eight Locomotives Burned.

ASHTABULA, O., July 13.—The Lake Shore round-house at this place burned Wednesday night. Eight locomotives were totally destroyed. Origin of the fire unknown. Loss $25,000.

BLACKS VS. WHITES.

Serious Trouble Brewing in Crittenden County, Arkansas.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 13.—Trouble is brewing between the whites and blacks in Crittenden county, Arkansas, where the negroes outnumber the whites five to one. Nearly all of the legal officials of the county are and for years have been negroes. The brief authority vested in these colored officials has imbued them with the idea that the whites must subject themselves to any treatment at the hands of the blacks, and outrages on all laws of good order have frequently been perpetrated. The few white officials elected have endeavored by every means to root out the most corrupt of this element, and this always occasions more or less friction between the races.

At each term of the criminal court charges have been made against some of the offending colored officeholders, and indictments have been found against them. Last October Judge D. W. Lewis, the colored county judge, and David Ferguson, his clerk, were indicted for habitual drunkenness. The trial will take place in a few days, and the threatened trouble is the outgrowth of that fact.

Five days ago a half dozen prominent planters were notified through their colored servants that their lives were in danger as the negroes were determined to drive the white people out of the country or kill them. Anonymous notes of warning were received by many prominent white men, who were given five days in which to leave the county.

The white people have therefore prepared for war. Governor Hughes has been informed of the state of affairs and seventy-five Winchester rifles have been sent to the whites. It is thought that a conflict is likely to occur at any time.

Died From Wounds in Sunday's Battle.

KNOXVILLE, July 13.—There are no new developments about the Whitley county, Kentucky, battle of Sunday except that Hiram Rose and another one of the Fuson men have died from their wounds. This makes a total of five deaths to date, with three other combatants seriously and four others slightly hurt. No further trouble is anticipated at present, as the leaders of both factions have suffered severely.

Donn Platt's Accuracy Doubted.

ATCHISON, Kan., July 13.—The accuracy of the statement made in Donn Platt's article in Belford's Magazine referring to John G. Savage having a mortgage of $30,000 on the property of Dr. W. L. Challis, of this city, and that a judgment for that sum was obtained therefor through John J. Ingalls, is strongly questioned here. It is denied that Dr. Challis ever had a mortgage on any of his property.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 13.—The governor has declined to grant a commutation of the sentence of Hugh Brooks, alias Maxwell, but granted a respite of four weeks.

Murder in the First Degree.

CINCINNATI, July 13.—A most brutal murder was that of Louis Brown, a colored man, at Coal City, some weeks ago, by Harrison Staples and Joseph C. Hall, also colored, during a dance. The murderers fled. The grand jury now sitting has indicted them for murder in the first degree.

A Strange Phenomenon.

MARQUETTE, Mich., July 13.—At 7 o'clock Wednesday evening the water in the harbor here fell twenty-six inches in a few minutes. The fall was so rapid that vessels at anchor were seen to sink. The wind was light off shore at the time and the lake calm. A dense cloud swept out and over the lake a short time before and is believed to have been a gigantic water-spout or tornado, which drove the water before it in such quantities as to cause the strange phenomenon.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY EVEN'G, JULY 13, 1888.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND,
of New York.
For Vice President,
ALLAN G. THURMAN, of Ohio.
AUGUST ELECTION, 1888.
For Sheriff,
JOHN W. ALEXANDER.

The Greenup Republicans have endorsed Colonel W. J. Worthington for Congress.

Republicans and Laborites are trying to get Colonel Robert Hamilton, of the "Bulldog Tobacco Works," of Covington, to run for Congress against Speaker Carlisle.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says it daily grows more doubtful whether the Republicans can save Michigan. Democrats are working nobly for several States in that section.

The Harrison men of Wall street want to bet that Cleveland will not be elected, but they want the odds to be in their favor—one to two. They must not be very confident of victory.

Republicans are desperate this year and will resort to most anything to win. It behooves every Democrat, therefore, to be on guard. This is the year every Democratic vote should be polled.

GOVERNOR BUCKNER has issued a proclamation calling the attention of the people of Kentucky to the French Exhibition of Arts at Paris, in May, 1889, Kentucky being invited to participate.

The BULLETIN acknowledges the receipt of complimentary tickets to the Ripley fair which will be held August 28 and 31 inclusive. The Young Men's Ripley Fair Company have charge this year and are making preparations for a big time.

The August election is not far off, and every Democrat should bear in mind that Sheriff Perrine's successor is to be chosen. The nominee, Mr. John W. Alexander, is experienced in the duties of the office. He is a man of ability and integrity, a life-long Democrat, and deserves the unanimous vote of the party.

Says the Hunterdon Democrat, of Hunterdon, N. J.: "Let every working-man in Hunterdon County as he receives his wages figure out what remains after he has paid 47 cents out of every 100 in increased cost of the necessities of his and his family's life, and he can tell to a hair how much he gains by the tariff."

Scholarships.

County Judge Coons has two scholarships in the Kentucky State College at Lexington to give to some worthy young men of this county. He has already disposed of two scholarships in same college, one to John A. Coburn, of Washington precinct, and the other to V. B. Watson, of Minerva. Applicants must be not less than fourteen or over twenty-five years of age, of good moral character, and must pass a satisfactory examination in English grammar through syntax, in arithmetic to percentage and in geography.

Another Harrison and Morton Club. The Republican headquarters in the Cox Building was thrown open last evening and the Harrison and Morton club organized. W. B. Mathews, Jr., presided as temporary chairman. A constitution was adopted after which the following officers were chosen:

President—Robert A. Cochran.
Vice President—First ward, W. H. Cox; Second ward, M. C. Hutchins; Third ward, M. R. Gilmore; Fourth ward, John T. Short; Fifth ward, W. B. Mathews, Jr.; Maysville No. 1 outside of city, Louis Shaffer; Maysville No. 2 outside of city, J. G. Wadsworth.
Secretaries—A. A. Wadsworth, W. H. Lynch and Wm. Moran.
Treasurer, Horatio Flickin.
Sergeants-at-Arms—Wm. A. Stockdale and James Molen.

A drum corps and glee club were also selected, after which there were several "talks" on the political questions of the hour. The speakers have all taken the cue and their song was Protection against Free trade. Every one who spoke knows he made a false charge when he harped on free trade against the Democrats. The BULLETIN defies any one to prove that there is any free trade contemplated in the Democratic platform on the Mills Tariff bill.

During the meeting the faithful went forward and enrolled their names. There were 267 members when the meeting adjourned.

THE MAN FROM MAINE.

How He Will Be Received on His Return From Europe.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Preparations seem to be going rapidly forward in New York for giving Mr. Blaine a welcome on his arrival such as no man probably ever received on the Atlantic coast, and which will have no parallel in current history save the demonstration which the Pacific slope made in honor of Gen. Grant when he landed in San Francisco after his tour around the world.

It has been arranged that a large fleet of boats shall down the harbor to meet the vessel bearing Mr. Blaine, so his reception will practically begin from the moment he views the shores of his native land. It is the intention to make the demonstration over his home coming an affair of so much pomp and magnitude that it shall be given a place in the history of the times.

Afraid to Stand Examination.

LOUISVILLE, July 13.—J. C. Baird, James S. Webb and W. N. Nesbet voluntarily surrendered their positions in the postoffice department Tuesday morning. They were clerks in the mailing department, and their resignation is said to be due to a lack of courage to tackle a civil service examination, which in the future will be conducted by Superintendent Ramsey, who will be more rigid in such examinations than has been the case under the old regime. They are Republicans, but their resignations were not requested by Assistant Postmaster Weaver.

A Crowded Gallery Falls.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., July 13.—The gallery of the Old Quaker church, in this city, now used as an infirmary for old colored people, fell Wednesday night during an entertainment for the benefit of the home, precipitating the crowd to the lower floor, probably fatally injuring the janitor and breaking limbs and otherwise injuring six or seven women, all colored.

A band had been engaged to make music; settees had been placed about the yard which was beautifully lighted by Chinese lanterns; and about thirty-five young people enjoyed themselves as only young people can. Refreshments were served about 11 o'clock, and Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham and their family exerted themselves to make everybody happy."

"CHRISTIAN KNIGHTHOOD."

Address by Sir Knight Bishop T. U. Dudley Before the Late Annual Conclave in This City.

R. E. Commander, Sir Knights, Ladies and Gentlemen: I count myself happy that I am privileged to stand before this brilliant assemblage and to speak to the Grand Commandery of Kentucky some words regarding Christian Knighthood. It is but rarely, because of the press of official duties, that I am permitted to attend the meetings of the order I love so well, and to which I am bound by ancestral bonds. For it was a father's hand that led the steps of my early manhood to the dim recesses of the Chamber of Reflection, and ever since I have loved the order with that love which must needs spring from such hallowed associations. And because I love the order, and because I seek in it the embodiment of the knightly virtues which are emblazoned upon its banner; because they are to me a reality and not empty professions, I have come here to address to you a few plain words, and I crave your patience while I speak of the meaning of the Templar Order.

Let us enter into an understanding of the spirit of the order, of the principle upon which it is based. I must be a real thing; a school which we enter as obedient disciples, the maxims and doctrines of which we are to make our own, and which we must show forth in our walk and conversation if we be worthy of these emblems and decorations with which the order decks us. Except these crosses mean some thing, all is child's play and mummery, and grave men ought to be done with it. What is the meaning of Christian Knighthood? We all can remember an occasion when a sword was placed into our hands and we were charged to wield it in defense of innocent maidens, destitute widows, helpless orphans and the Christian religion. What does it mean? The order consecrates our lives to personal devotion; mark it, personal devotion; to a warfare in the sacred cause and service of religion, which means a binding back of our nature and affections to the unchangeable and everlasting rock whereon our salvation is founded. The order must mean that, or it would be a mocking sham, helping to degrade our manhood because we take such words upon our lips. And then the momentous question rises up in our hearts: Am I giving this service which the order exacts of me?

Why are these exacting so coupled? Why is this personal service demanded? The answer is plain: I must defend innocent maidens, destitute widows and helpless orphans, because I am a sworn follower of the religion of Jesus Christ, and because the Christian religion, and only it, has made humanity what it has become in the Christian era, and has compelled the human race to recognize for the first time the claims of the helpless upon it for relief. Christianity, and only Christianity, has rendered womanhood sacred, and has thrown its sheltering arms around the unprotected orphan. The gracious message to suffering humanity which our adorable Lord first uttered at Jerusalem, and which fell so strangely upon the ear of the heathen world, bids us to be the friends of innocency and suffering. What was woman, before Christianity broke the fetters of her thralldom? A play thing for her liege Lord. But Christian Knighthood bows down before her and does homage. Because He, the brightness of the eternal glory, humbled Himself for our salvation to tabernacle in a virgin's bosom; because the angel spake to the consecrated maiden upon the threshold of Nazareth, womanhood has become sacred for us. And before the light of Christ illumined the world, who cared for an orphan child, cast by the storms and breakers of a pitiless world upon the bleak shore of humanity? Crippled perhaps, certainly feeble and indigent, what good was this ill-starred wail to the busy world around it? Expose it on the mountain top that it may die! Take it out of the way; let the fittest survive! But now, since the glow of the Redeemer's love has filled the hearts of humanity, the more hopeless, the more helpless it is, the warmer is its welcome in the asylums which Christianity has builded to receive little children in the name and for the sake of Christ. We care for them for Christ has made manhood sacred for us. And therefore must I wield my sword in such holy service for the Christian religion.

But am I wielding it? Ah, that is another question. In that gloomy night, when the Master in the garden of Gethsemane was sorrowful unto death, struggling in agony against that appalling fate which the morning light was to usher in, praying that if it were possible the hour might pass from Him, a band of men stealthily crept near, with swords and torches, and slaves; and in front of them, to disarm suspicion, appeared one of the chosen twelve and went straightway to Him with the salutation "Hail, Master," and kissed him. Answer, my soul, how is it with thee? I come as he came, crying "Hail Master." I, as he, owe Him personal devotion; I wear the Master's cross upon my breast; I declare my belief in Him, my trust in Him. I speak the prayer He taught me and bade me to pray, and, taking hold of His sacred garment, I exclaim "Hail Master," and kiss Him. In the shade of night behind me is a numberless throng, a vast multitude of evil spirits bearing the gleaming torches of passion and self-will, seeking to kindle in my slumbering heart a flame to make me a traitor like the son of perdition. I kiss Him and call Him Master; and what then? Do I blaspheme His name, the name of Emmanuel? Do I take His name in vain that it may give a factitious value to my empty words? Do I, wearing the emblems of His martyrdom upon my heart, lead my brother man, for whom He died, to excess and to licentious practices which must soon make his wife a widow, his children orphans? Do I, the soldier of the cross, attend His church to worship Him, or do I shrink the service of the life duty for which I enlisted under His banner? Do men, when they gather for prayer and praise, look in vain for my presence? Ah, my soul, treachery to Christ is as possible to thee as it was to the man of Kerioth; not the same act of betrayal, but some as real. And yet thou art Christ's sworn soldier and servant. Answer, my soul, how is it with thee?

Thanks be to God, we may answer, I do not do such things; I am His disciple and His follower. But when the Master in the garden of Gethsemane was exceeding sorrowful unto death, and in the agony of prayer His sweat fell to the ground as it were great drops of blood, His chosen witnesses and disciples were with Him and they were asleep. Answer, my soul, art thou watching and praying in the service of the blessed Master, or art thou taking thy rest like Peter and James and John? While he calls thee to battle, art thou asleep? Look about thee and see what wickedness and abomination are all around thee. Innocent maidens are in the toils of the tempter, and because of their very guilelessness they fall to see the fatal coil of sin and shame which is destined to drag them down to a latea thousand times worse than death. But where turies the valiant Knight who is sworn to defend them, to rescue them? Art thou content to see them fall and then to hand them over to some irresponsible reformatory organization, instead of battling manfully according to thy sacred duty to save them from betrayal? The Church of God is appealing, "Help ye men who have sworn allegiance to the Lord Jesus Christ, who are banded together to shield innocent maidens, and widows and orphans." What is the response? Shall it be, "There are the women and the children and a little handful of preachers; let them do the fighting, I have no time for it." And still I stand there in my glittering armor, a valiant and magnanimous Knight, lustily crying, "I wield my sword in defense of innocent maidens, destitute widows, helpless orphans and the Christian religion."

Men and brethren, in this age as well as in that which gave birth to the order of the poor fellow-soldiers of the Temple, the Holy Sepulchre is in danger of capture by the Saracens. Come forth in your strength and power, Knights; stand up for Jesus Christ, and prove by the life you live that now as in the olden times our Savior and Redeemer is the Lord and Master of your manhood and of mine. So you shall overcome the doubts and fears of men, and you shall convince them by your lives and conduct that the Holy Sepulchre is indeed empty; that the blessed Gospel of forgiveness and mercy is indeed true; that Christ is indeed risen from the dead, and that in Him shall all be made the heirs of life everlasting. "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue and if there be any praise, think on these things." So shall you be the true champions of the helpless and of the poor, and the undaunted defenders of the faith and of the Christian religion.

Let me not be misunderstood; I do not quarrel with the joy, the festivities and the legitimate merry making of our annual convalescence. If they be pure and clean, I am not so Puritanic to deprecate them. The poet has pictured to us in undying colors how "the sound of revelry at night" ushered in the glorious morning of Waterloo; how the English after the mirthful dance buckled on the sword to conquer upon the bloody field the master of battles. So after the innocent dissipation of which I was a glad spectator last night at the beautiful Masonic Temple in this town, the soul may go out to do battle in the service of that sacred cause to which we all owe fealty. But whether we be in church or in the ball room, we must never forget the strife which claims our lives.

The tent of our Grand Commander is set up in this beautiful city, that for the coming year he may direct and guide the course of the Grand Commandery. In the providence of God the light of eye-sight is now denied to him. We know how fervently he prays that this cup of affliction may be taken from him, and our prayers ascend with his supplications to the throne of our Father in Heaven that he will grant his request, or else to give him grace so to take His visitation that he will have patience under his afflictions and, after this painful life is ended, dwell with our dear Lord in life everlasting. A Spanish proverb says: "Shut the windows that there may be light in the house." So, perhaps, the glorious sunshine of God's grace will descend upon him with double brightness, though his eye may not see again on earth the light of the sun and of the stars.

The time of parting has come. We must separate. The Grand Warden sounds the charge. Our duty is before us. You have the pass; go forth, that when the trump of God shall sound at last from the battlements of Heaven, we may be gathered into the realm of everlasting peace, where God shall wipe away all tears from our eyes, and where shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, for the former things are passed away.

"The Son of God goes forth to war, A kingly crown to gale; His blood-red banner streams afar, Who follows in his train? Who best can drink His cup of woe, Triumphant over pain; Who patient bears his cross below, He follows in His train?"

"A glorious band, the chosen few On whom the Spirit came; Twelve valiant soldiers, their hope they knew, And mock'd the cross and flame. They met the tyrant's brandished steel, The lion's gory mane; They bow'd their necks the death to feel; Who follows in their train?"

"A noble army: men and boys, The martyr and the maid, Arise and the Savior's throne rejoice, In robes of light array'd. They climb'd the steep ascent of Heaven Through peril, toil and pain; O God! to us may grace be given To follow in their train—Amen."

MR. PARNELL'S THREAT.

HE WILL SUE THE LONDON TIMES FOR LIBEL.

Unless the Government Takes Some Action in Regard to the Charges Brought Against Him—Dowager Empress Victoria a Prisoner—Foreign News.

LONDON, July 13.—It is stated upon good authority that unless the government take some action in regard to Mr. Parnell in reference to the recent charges brought against him by the Times he will bring a suit for libel against that paper in the autumn. The Irish leader has maintained the policy of silence so long that it has been thought improbable that he would break his custom and appear before the world in the court. This is what the Times, of all Tory organs, would especially like to see done.

For years this paper has persistently libelled Mr. Parnell and other Irish members in the hope that human nature would some day refuse to bear the taunts and aspersions of character, and would finally summon the paper to answer for its conduct in open court, and by this means the Tories hoped to possess themselves of the secrets and methods of the Irish party, known only to the most prominent of the Irish leaders. Mr. Parnell's dislike of personal malice before the public has had something to do with his refusal to figure in a libel suit, though of course his chief motive has been that of loyalty to his party, lest anything should be disclosed that would be detrimental to it, and hurt the cause for which he has labored so many years.

Reports now say, however, that he considers it more important to speak than to be silent, of more service to his country to submit to the undeniable demand for a complete explanation of the questions raised. It is stated that he will allow the government every opportunity of initiating action, preferring that it should come from them, but that if they will not prosecute him he will bring the action in the shape of a libel suit for heavy damages against the Times.

In an interview Mr. O'Donnell said that up to February last it had been his intention to treat the libel suit which he brought against the Times as purely personal matter, but at that time Mr. Davitt wrote to him offering every assistance in Mr. Parnell's power, and that to further the case Mr. Parnell was willing to assist. Mr. O'Donnell says that he felt himself bound to regard the representations put forward in behalf of the Parnellites for better prosecution. He says that the action ruined him and declares that he is unable to understand how his eminent advisers proved so seriously wrong. "All the best of the Nationalists," said Mr. O'Donnell, "were with me in desiring a most complete inquiry, but through the over-cleverness of certain eminent advisers the case was ruined."

A Royal Prisoner.

LONDON, July 13.—The Pall Mall Gazette, in its issue of to-day, publishes a sensational article from its Berlin correspondent, dated July 10. The correspondent states that Frederickshagen palace, at which the Dowager Empress Victoria is stopping is in all but the name a prison, and that the empress is virtually under arrest. The correspondent adds that in any case the imperial widow is receiving but scant consideration from the men now in power and it is presumed that the object of this treatment is to obtain possession of the late Emperor Frederick's papers.

Rev. George Robert Gleig Dead.

LONDON, July 13.—The Rev. George Robert Gleig, once chaplain general to the forces, is dead, aged ninety-two years. He wrote a number of books and frequently contributed to various magazines.

Bismarck, Kalnoky and Crispien.

ROME, July 13.—Signor Crispien, Italian premier, is expected to arrive at Carlsbad on August 17. Prince Bismarck and Count Kalnoky Austrian premier, will arrive subsequently and the three statesmen of the allied powers will hold a conference.

Orangemen Hold Meetings.

DUBLIN, July 13.—Immense meetings of Orangemen are being held to-day in Ulster and at Glasgow, in honor of the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne.

Foreign Notes.

Professors Bergmann and Gerhardt have been decorated with the high class order of Hohenzollern.

Dr. Mackenzie has asked the Medical Journal to say that in deference to wishes which he is bound to respect, he cannot reply to the reports of the German doctors, which he says are full of misstatements and untruths. He says he will be able to prove this when the opposition which is now laid upon him shall have been withdrawn.

The London Times learns from its Rome correspondent that Cardinal Moran has had frequent interviews with the pope, and has impressed the latter greatly by showing him that it is not policy to interfere with the politics of the Irish, who, he says, are in great power in the colonies and in America. The correspondent says that it is probable that the visit will result in the pope remaining silent hereafter and refraining from purely political questions.

CAUGHT BY ACCIDENT.

The Gas Well at Welker, Ohio—Citizens Must Burn Wood.

FINDLAY, O., July 13.—A gas well near Welker was turned on Tuesday for the purpose of exhibiting it, but before it was lighted in the regular way the gas caught accidentally. In an instant it was beyond control and burning in the most furious way, melting the pipe around the entrance and permitting the gas to escape in great quantities. The whole party surrounding the well when the accident occurred were more or less burned by the explosion, one man so severely that he will lose both his eyes. The well is still burning at a fearful rate, and as no one can approach near enough to gain control of the gas, the problem of how to extinguish the flames has become a serious one and the loss very great. The well supplies the village of Welker with gas, and the people who have been using it, as a consequence of this accident, are deprived of fuel and have returned to the use of wood.

SANDUSKY, O., July 13.—The cornerstone of the Ohio soldiers' and sailors' home was laid Wednesday with appropriate ceremonies by the Grand Army. Thousands of people were present, and speeches were made by Gen. Gibson and Governor Foraker.

THE WISCONSIN FASTER.

Zachar, Comes to the Conclusion That He Wants to Eat.

RACINE, Wis., July 13.—John Zachar, the Caledonian faster, after an abstinence from food for fifty-three days, has at last been induced to eat. His story is a most remarkable one, and although much has been said, the true reason for this wonderful fast was not positively known until to-day. Some time during last March or April, Zachar and his father had some difficulty in reference to wages or a distribution of property. This so worked upon Zachar's mind that he became morose, and evidently led him to undertake to starve himself. The estrangement of father and son was complete, for during the entire time of his fast Zachar's father never visited him nor even inquired after his health.

An old friend of the family learned the facts and arranged for a meeting between father and son, which took place Wednesday. The two talked long and seriously over their difficulties and finally matters were settled. Then Zachar declared that he would eat and endeavor to live. Accordingly he was given a few spoonfuls of milk, although he did not retain it, and at intervals during the afternoon took milk with pulverized crackers in it. This did not seem to give him any pain, but he could not retain a particle of the food.

He seems unusually bright, and feels certain that he will live. Zachar presents a revolting appearance. He has not shaven since he commenced his fast, and his hair and beard hang down over his face. He is terribly emaciated, being reduced from 180 pounds to ninety. His eyes are dull and heavy, the lids drooping down over them as though there was not sufficient strength to hold them up. He reminds one of a person in the last stages of consumption. His skin is dry and is like parchment, while his bones protrude prominently from all parts of his body.

In reference to the new turn taken by the case, local physicians say that it is probable that with proper care the patient will live, and ultimately recover his wonted health. The local profession do not look upon his fast as an absolute genuine one, insisting that he must have taken some substantial nourishment, because it would have been absolutely impossible for him to have lived so long. Those who have been with him constantly say he has taken no nourishment for fifty-three days.

General Sheridan Improving.

NONQUITT, Mass., July 13.—There is little if any notable change in General Sheridan's condition since the last report. He passed rather a restless night, but during the forenoon he has been very comfortable, sleeping most of the time. His cough is loose and not troublesome, and his respiration is still improving. His pulse is comparatively good, with excellent tension, the heart's action showing no tendency to failure. On the whole, it is thought his general condition is perhaps slightly better. In addition to his milk and crackers, he has partaken of meat twice during the past twenty-four hours.

Tough on Henry George.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Henry George, who some time ago removed his editorial sanctum from cramped quarters at the top of the Everett building, at Nassau and Ann, now occupies equally close quarters in a dingy building on Union square. Philosopher that he is, these are mighty tough days for George. To be denounced by his old friends among agitators and looked upon curiously by new comrades is not pleasant or exhilarating.

Family Goes Down With a Bridge.

ROCKVILLE, Ind., July 13.—News has reached this place that the wagon bridge across the Wabash at Clinton has gone down. A farmer was crossing with his family, and all were lost. The high water caused the disaster. The bridge had been condemned for some years.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

The stock market opened weak, and under a free offering of the leading stocks prices declined 160/100 per cent. from last night's figures during the first thirty minutes. Toward 11 o'clock more support was extended the list, and by noon the decline had been more than recovered, prices at that time showing advances of 1/16 to 1/8 on yesterday's prices. The market has since been feverish and irregular.
